Unlock the Summer:

The Board of Directors have decided to move the annual pancake breakfast forward one week to June 5th. This will coincide with the "Unlock the Summer" campaign being put on by the Village of Bobcaygeon. It will help give our club more visibility in the community which is a good thing.

Keel Boat Races and events:

The second keel boat race is unchanged and will be held on June 12th. However, we are encouraging some enterprising club members to step forward and host the Oak Shores raft up and the Sea Food raft up

Sail for Kid's Sake:

This event, originated by Peter and Sandy Stapper, garnered a lot of good press for the club in the past. This year we are looking for a club member to step forward and chair the event. I am sure if you contact any member of the Board they will tell you what is involved.

Curling Night:

25 Club members turned out for this annual event which is followed by a potluck dinner and various sore muscles.

No word to me on who took home the honours but I am sure a good time was had by all.

Anybody renovating a kitchen?

We are seeking a double compartment sink to replace the single compartment sink in the clubhouse kitchen. Anybody have a line on a free sink? Since David Holloway and I do most of the dishes on Wednesday night I guarantee you that your dishes will be cleaner. Something to think about EH?

M-16 Masts:

I am told that the class has placed an order for 40 new masts. The masts will be the same as the original One-Design section that is just a little lighter than the Melges masts. Joe Bowland will have four of them. John Hayashi who is supposed to be building new M-16's has ordered 8 masts so perhaps the new M-16 will hit the water this summer. There is no news on a regatta site for the M-16 North Americans this summer.

Erika Shepard:

I understand that Erika walked for the first time early this month, which is a great step forward. Her Dad reports that Erika is looking forward to riding her horse this summer and getting some sailing in also. Good work Erika! All the club members are looking forward to seeing you out on the water.

Thought for the day:

One woman asked another how she stopped her husband from reading her e-mails. The woman responded by saying, "I keep them in a file marked, 'Instruction Manuals'".

Thanks to Ken Inglis!
